

LAYLIN IS ELECTED.

Republican Candidate For Secretary of State Won His Fight.

DICK CLAIMS IT BY 100,000.

The Republicans Apparently Made No Gain In Congressmen and Were Likely to Lose One—Some of the Congressmen Who Were Elected.

Columbus, O., Nov. 5.—The Republicans carried Ohio by next to their highest plurality on record. Nothing above 70,000 had been predicted, but partial returns indicated that it will greatly exceed that figure. At the same time, the Republicans, on returns up to midnight, made no gain in Ohio congressmen and were likely to lose one. The present Ohio delegation in congress consists of 17 Republicans and 4 Democrats, and the returns showed 16 Republicans and 4 Democrats elected, with the Twelfth district in doubt.

Compared to Last Election.

The present apportionment of the Ohio congressional districts was made by a Republican legislature, with 14 Republicans, 4 Democrats and 3 doubtful districts. Two years ago the Republicans carried all the doubtful districts by close pluralities and this year they increased their pluralities in the Republican and two of the doubtful districts without gaining any congressmen, and probably losing the close Twelfth district. At the last session of the Republican legislature only one congressional district, the Twelfth, was changed, and it has probably been carried by the Democrats. At midnight Chairman Dick said:

Dick Claims 100,000.
"Returns to this hour do not change our estimate of 100,000 Republican plurality. We have carried all districts now represented in congress by Republicans, with the possible exception of the Twelfth, and in its place we have probably carried the Thirteenth district."

During the campaign it was said that any reduction of the Republican plurality in Ohio would be considered a preliminary victory for Mayor Johnson over Senator Hanna in the senatorial contest of next year.

Highest With One Exception.

In 1893 McKinley had 81,000 votes for governor and in 1894 the Republican record was broken with 137,077. McKinley had in Ohio a plurality for president in 1896 of 51,109, and in 1900 of 69,036, and last year, with which the vote of yesterday was compared, the Republican plurality was 67,567. With a single exception, the Republican plurality yesterday was the highest in the history of Ohio on a total vote of less than 800,000.

The following congressmen were elected in Ohio:

- First district—Nicholas Langworth, Rep.
- Second district—Herman P. Goebel, Rep.
- Fourth district—Harvey C. Garber, Dem.
- Fifth district—John S. Snook, Dem
- Sixth district—Charles Q. Hildebrand, Rep.
- Seventh district—Thomas B. Kyle, Rep.
- Eighth district—William R. War-nock, Rep.
- Ninth district—James H. Southard, Rep.
- Tenth district—Stephan Morgan, Rep.
- Eleventh district—Charles H. Gros-venor, Rep.
- Twelfth district—DeWitt C. Badger, Dem.
- Thirteenth district—A. H. Jackson, Rep.
- Fourteenth district—William W. Skiles, Rep.
- Fifteenth district—Henry C. Van Voorhis, Rep.
- Sixteenth district—Joseph J. Gill, Rep.
- Seventeenth district—John W. Cas-singham, Dem.
- Eighteenth district—James Ken-nedy, Rep.
- Nineteenth district—Charles Dick, Rep.

Akron, O., Nov. 5.—Nineteenth district re-elects Gen. Charles Dick to congress by an increased plurality over 1900, when it was 13,788.

PENNYPACKER WAS ELECTED.

Carried Pennsylvania by Estimated Plurality of 175,000—Democrats Gained Congressmen.

Philadelphia, Nov. 5.—Yesterday for the first time in the history of the state more than one million votes were cast in an election. Samuel W. Pennypacker, Republican, was elected governor by an estimated plurality of 175,000, and the Republican ticket was generally successful in the various counties. The Democrats elected two and possibly three of the 32 congressmen. The legislature will be more strongly Republican than ever before, with the exception of the 1897 session, and it is certain that Boies Penrose will succeed himself in the United States senate.

Some Pennsylvania Judges.

Judges were elected in 11 counties of Pennsylvania yesterday as follows:

Common pleas, Allegheny county, Edwin H. Stowe, Republican; Butler county, James L. Galbraith, Republican; Carbon county, Allen Craig, Democrat; Philadelphia county, Nor-ris S. Barrett, Republican; Michael Arnold, Democrat.

Orphans' court, Allegheny county, Josiah Cohen, Republican; Berks county, H. Willis Bland, Democrat;

Lackawanna county, Alton A. Mos-burg, Republican.

Associate judges, Columbia county, William Krickbaum, Democrat; Elk county, Thomas B. Gilouly, Demo-cratic; Huntingdon county, W. H. Ben-sion, Republican; Monroe county, John M. Bossard, Democrat.

Incomplete returns from the legis-lative districts of Pennsylvania indi-cated that the Republicans will have an increased majority in the senate and house of representatives, which assures the re-election of United States Senator Penrose.

Fusionists Carry Allegheny County.

Pittsburg, Nov. 5.—It was estimat-ed at midnight that the entire Dem-ocratic Citizens ticket had been elected by a majority of at least 30,000.

Victory for Pennypacker and the whole state ticket in the county is certain. It is but a question of the size of the majority. From both Cit-izens and Machine headquarters it is ascertained that the Pennypacker ma-jority will be close to 30,000.

The indications were that the Cit-izens congressional and legislative tickets will be elected by about the same majority received by the fusion county candidates in the district.

FATAL ELECTION NIGHT HORROR.

Eleven Killed by Premature Ex-plosion of Fire Works at Madison Square Garden, New York.

New York, Nov. 5.—By a series of ex-plosions of technic bombs and other fireworks last night, among the vast multitude gathered in Madison Square to witness the ascension of an airship and the display of the election returns, eleven persons were killed outright, many being blown almost to pieces, and at least fifty injured, many of them fatally.

Hundreds Trampled Under Foot.

It is estimated that at least 30,000 persons thronged the Square at the time of the explosions, which were suc-ceeded by a frightful panic in which hundreds were thrown down and trampled under foot.

Five hundred policemen and all the ambulances in the city were instantly summoned and the dying and those most seriously injured were removed to the hospitals. In addition to these many of the wounded were taken away by friends.

Nine men in charge of the fireworks display were placed under arrest im-mediately after the explosion.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Concord, N. H., Nov. 5.—According to returns received last night, 175 towns and wards in New Hampshire gave Batchelder (Rep.), for governor 25,274; Hollis (Dem.), 20,321; scat-tering, 1,127. Same towns and wards in 1900 gave Jordan (Rep.), 32,798; Pot-ter (Dem.), 21,079, a net Republican loss of 6,766. Same percentage of vote throughout the state would result in a Republican plurality of 8,000.

RHODE ISLAND.

Providence, R. I., Nov. 5.—The elec-tion of L. P. C. Garvin, Dem., for gov-ernor, was practically assured last night because of the poll he has made in 87 district out of 150 of 15,407, as against 12,829 for Kimball, Rep.

First district—Melville Bull, Rep.
Second district—Adin B. Capron, Rep.

INDIANA.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 5.—Indiana went Republican yesterday by from 25,000 to 40,000. The congressional delegation remains the same, with nine Republicans and four Democrats. The legislature will be about 25 on joint ballot, and Senator Charles W. Fairbanks will be re-elected to the United States senate.

NEVADA.

Reno, Nov. 5.—Very meager returns from state last night. Count was progressing slowly. Indications were that Farrington, Rep., for congress, would have a safe majority in state.

CONNECTICUT.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 5.—Connect-icut yesterday elected the full Repub-lican ticket for state officers and all the five Republican candidates for con-gress.

NEW JERSEY.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 5.—The Rep-ublicans will again control both houses of the New Jersey state leg-islature by heavy majorities.

RESULTS IN OTHER STATES.

Dallas, Tex., Nov. 5.—Indications point to the election of the entire Dem-ocratic state ticket.

Jacksonville, Fla., Nov. 5.—Light vote polled throughout the state today there was no opposition to the Dem-ocratic ticket, state or congressional. The proposed constitutional amend-ment, providing for three extra mem-bers of the supreme bench, was carried.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 5.—The state certainly will return a full Democratic congressional delegation. Returns from the ninth district, where there was the only serious contest, assures the election of Rhea (Dem.).

Charleston, S. C., Nov. 5.—The Dem-ocrats elect their entire federal, state and county ticket almost without the slightest opposition. Georgetown county elects a full Democratic ticket for the first time in 35 years.

Jackson, Miss., Nov. 5.—The vote in Mississippi yesterday was very light, the tabulations so far made indicating a total of less than 40,000. All the Dem-ocratic candidates for congress were elected without opposition. The consti-tutional amendments are believed to have been defeated.

HOUSE REPUBLICAN.

Democrats Apparently Cut the Majority Down to Narrow Margin.

THEY GAIN FOUR SENATORS

Indications Were That the Republican Majority of 20 Has Been Reduced to 16—Democratic Chairman Griggs Hadn't Given Up Hope.

(Washington, Nov. 5.—At 2:30 a. m. the returns received here indicated that the Republicans had elected 196 representatives to the next house, the Democrats 176, and Independents 3 (in Pennsylvania), leaving 11 districts in doubt.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 5.—Al-though the returns from the doubtful congressional districts were slow in arriving, the indications at midnight were that the Republicans would con-trol the next house of representatives by a narrow margin. In the present house, with a membership of 357, the Republicans have 41 majority. Under the new apportionment, the 58th house will consist of 386 members, a ma-jority of which is 194. The thirteen southern states, not counting West Virginia, but including Missouri, have 125 representatives.

Republicans Got Probably Five.

The Democrats have carried 116 of these districts and the Republicans probably five, two in Tennessee, one in Kentucky and two in Missouri, with two in North Carolina, one in Virginia, and one in Alabama doubtful, accord-ing to the latest returns. To obtain a majority in the next house it was nec-essary, therefore, for the Democrats to secure 78 votes in the north and west. In this territory, they have at present 52 representatives. The latest returns indicate that this strength has been held, with the exception of one seat each from Idaho, Montana and Ne-vada, as to which the returns at this hour are inconclusive. Adding 49 to 116 gives the Democrats 165. The re-turns show that they have made a gain of three in Pennsylvania, one in Nebraska, one in Delaware, one in Wisconsin, two in Maryland, one in Colorado, and probably four in New York, swelling the total to 178.

16 Short of Majority.

This leaves them 16 short of a ma-jority with the result in four doubtful southern districts to be heard from, and doubtful districts in the north and west from which the returns were as yet inadequate, as follows:

West Virginia, 2; Ohio, 1; Indiana, 2; Illinois, 2; Iowa, 1; Nebraska, 1; Kansas, 1; Minnesota, 2; Michigan, 1; California, 2; and Utah, 1, a total of 21. Returns at 1 o'clock added one Dem-ocrat in New Jersey, one in Minne-sota, one in Illinois, one in Alabama, and two in North Carolina to the Democratic representation, a total of six. But two of the gains credited to the Democrats in Pennsylvania should properly be set down as fu-sion-Republicans, making the Dem-ocrats actually elected by the returns thus far received 184, with the doubt-ful district in Minnesota having gone Democratic, the one in Kansas Re-publican, Kansas having gone solidly Republican, and the one in Iowa Re-publican. Three of the four doubtful Southern districts went Democratic.

Washington, Nov. 5.—The next United States senate will be Republi-can by at least 16 majority, against the present majority of 20. The present senate contains 54 Republicans and 34 Democrats in a total of 90 seats, there being two vacancies from Delaware, where the Republican legislature failed to elect. The terms of thirty senators expire with the present con-gress. There is also a vacancy from Michigan, caused by the death of Sen-ator McMillan. Of these 31 seats to be filled, not including the two from Delaware, but including the McMillan vacancy, 19 are now Republican, and 12 are Democratic. Wellington, of Maryland, being classified as a Republi-can, and Harris, of Kansas; McLaur-in, of South Carolina, and Teller, of Colorado, as Democrats.

Already Chosen Senators.

Seven states have already elected senators to take their seats March 4, 1903. Maryland has chosen Gorman, a Democrat, to succeed Wellington, a Republican; Kentucky, McCreary, a Democrat, to succeed Deboe, a Republi-can; Iowa has re-elected Allison, a Republican; Ohio has re-elected For-aker, a Republican; Louisiana has re-elected McEnery, a Democrat; Ver-mont has re-elected Dillingham, a Re-publican, and Georgia today re-elected Clay, a Democrat. Four Democrats and three Republicans, therefore are already elected, leaving sixteen Republi-cans and eight Democratic seats to be filled. The legislature in Oregon, which will choose a successor to Sil-mon, has been elected and is Republi-can. Including Delaware, therefore, the 25 senators will be elected by the legislatures chosen today. Those leg-islatures were elected by the following states: Indiana, Delaware (two seats) New Hampshire, North Dakota, Ne-vada, South Dakota, Illinois, Pennsylv-ania, California, Connecticut, New York, North Carolina, Wisconsin, Kan-sas, Michigan, Idaho, Arkansas, South Carolina, Florida, Alabama, Utah, Col-orado, Washington and Missouri.

Republicans Surely Have 13.

Of these the Republicans have sure-ly carried 13, viz: Indiana, New Hamp-shire, North Dakota, South Dakota, Illinois, California, Connecticut, New York, Michigan, Kansas, Wisconsin and Washington, and the Democrats seven, viz: North Carolina, Delaware (probably), Arkansas, South Carolina, Florida, Alabama and Missouri. This

Republicans and 34 Demo-crats next senate. The result was, owing to the meagre returns at this hour, is still Nevada, Idaho, Utah and the chances favoring of Democratic legislatures

In Colorado, Idaho and Nevada and a Republican legislature in Utah.

Loss of Four to Republicans.

If these probabilities should be real-ized the senate will stand 53 Republi-cans and 37 Democrats, a loss of four majority for the Republican compared with the present political division. In the present Republican legislature in Delaware should be called in extra session and should be able to get to-gether and elect two Republican sen-ators before the new legislature con-venes, the Republican strength in the senate would be increased two, giving the dominant party a majority of 20, or exactly what they have in the pres-ent senate.

At midnight Chairman Griggs made a statement, claiming the house would be Democratic by from 10 to 12 votes. He added to his specifications of gains three in California, one in Wis-consin, two in Michigan and two in Minnesota.

DELAWARE.

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 5.—The com-plexion of the next Delaware general assembly is in doubt. At 1:15 a. m. it was apparent that a deadlock on the two United States senatorial vacancies will be the result, as was the case two years ago. The regular Republi-can state committee claims that the body will be composed of 19 Union Re-publicans, 8 regular Republicans, 22 Democrats and 3 doubtful. Democratic State Chairman Willard Saulsbury stated at 1 a. m. that his returns thus far received showed that 24 Demo-cratic members have been elected. The majority on joint ballot and the number necessary to elect United States senators is 27.

CALIFORNIA.

San Francisco, Nov. 5.—At 10 o'clock last night only a few scat-tering returns had been received from the city and state. These indicated that the governorship was very doubt-ful. Lane (Dem.) was running ahead of his ticket. The legislature prob-ably will be Republican. The vote on congressman in the Fourth and Fifth districts is close. Returns at hand indicate that Kahn (Rep.) will be elected by a small plurality. In the Fifth district Lord (Rep.) is running behind in the strong Labor districts in this city. In the second district the returns indicate the probable defeat of Coombs (Rep.).

MINNESOTA.

St. Paul, Nov. 5.—At 10:20 last night Chairman Jamison, of the Re-publican state committee, said: "Re-turns so far received, while some-what meagre, indicate that Van Sant will have a plurality of 30,000 for governor. Substantial gains have been made all along the line." Chair-man Buck, of the Democratic state committee, said: "Returns are very meager, but so far as received are not flattering as to Rosin's success. However, we have not enough to in-dicate a definite result."

NEBRASKA.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 5.—Returns in Nebraska showed the vote to be ex-cceedingly close on governor, with the remainder of the Republican state ticket probably elected. The fusionists gained a congressman in the second district, Hitchcock over Mercer, and the Republicans have probably gained in the fourth, Hineshaw over Stark. Burkett, Republican, is returned in the first. Lincoln City and Lancaster county give the Republican state ticket 2,000 plurality, and elect the entire Republican legislative ticket.

ILLINOIS.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Meagre returns prevented at midnight anything like an accurate statement of the result of the election in the state of Illinois, although there is every indication that the Republican ticket has been elected by a good majority. The next legisla-ture will be Republican without a doubt, and the successor to United States Senator Mason is certain to be Republican. Chicago is apparently close, but likely Republican.

MONTANA.

Butte, Mont., Nov. 5.—Latest reports received last night gave the state to the Republicans almost beyond a doubt, although defeat had not yet been conceded by the Democrats. Over 25 precincts had been heard from, in-cluding the largest counties in Mont-ana. For associate justice of the su-preme court W. L. Holloway, Rep., had 9,567; Jerry Leslie, Dem., 7,847.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Boston, Nov. 5.—Returns at 1 a. m. for governor from all but one city and four towns gave Bates (Rep.), 191,126; Gaston (Dem.), 155,744. The missing city and towns last year gave Republi-can pluralities of about 3,000, which places Bates' plurality in excess of 35,000.

COLORADO.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 5.—Returns re-ceived from the state up to 10:30 o'clock last night, indicate the elec-tion of Peabody, Rep., for governor, by a small plurality. The Democratic con-gressional candidates are reported to be running ahead of their ticket and are believed to be elected.

WASHINGTON.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 5.—At 10:30 p. m. last night returns were coming in slowly. Indications were that state would go Republican by about 20,000 majority, with the election of three congressmen and the control of the legislature.

O'DELL RE-ELECTED.

Coler, Democratic Candidate, Gave Him Close Race, In New York.

PLURALITY WAS 6,000 TO 9,000

Democrats Made a Gain In Congress-men—Tammany Candidates Elect-ed to Supreme Court—The Legis-lature Republican.

New York, Nov. 5.—In spite of the phenominal large vote in New York and Kings county for Bird S. Coler, Democrat, the returns up to a late hour last night indicated the re-election of Benjamin B. Odell, Republican, to the governorship of New York state by from 6,000 to 9,000. Coler's plurality in the Greater New York exceeded 115,000, surplus of 3,000 above the claim made by Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, but even that large vote was not sufficient to overcome the Republican ma-jorities from up the state. Odell's vote in the country districts was lighter than two years ago, but Coler's was also lower than Stanchfield's in the same year. In New York city Coler's plurality was approximately 117,500, made up as follows: New York county, 87,000; Kings, 26,500; Queens, 5,500, and Richmond, 2,500.

Coler Carried Oyster Bay.

Oyster Bay, where President Roose-velt's country home is situated, and where he voted yesterday, was carried by Coler, his plurality being 131. Two years ago Odell's plurality was 512.

The Republican state ticket in full is as follows:

Governor—Benjamin B. Odell.
Lieutenant-Governor—Frank W. Higgins.
Secretary of State—John F. O'Brien.
Comptroller—Nathan L. Miller.
Treasurer—John G. Wickser.
Attorney-General—Henry B. Coman.
State Engineer—Edward A. Bond.
Judge of Court of Appeals—William E. Werner.

Republicans Gained Congressmen.

Figures from the congressional dis-tricts in the state gave the delegation as twenty Republicans to seventeen Democrats. The present state repre-sentation is 22 Republicans to 12 Dem-ocrats. Heavy Coler vote carried according to the first returns the first 19 districts in the state for the Dem-ocratic candidates. All returns indi-cated that Judge Gray, Democratic candidate for judge of the court of ap-peals ran somewhat ahead of his ticket.

The Democrats made gains in the state legislature, but the gains were not sufficient to endanger the Republi-can hold on the seat in the United States senate now held by Thomas C. Platt.

New York, Nov. 5.—The city of Greater New York, which last year elected a fusionist to the mayoralty, returned to the Democracy yesterday, and rolled up one of its old-time ma-jorities for that party. Locally, the candidates voted for were three jus-tices of the supreme court, 19 mem-bers of the national house of represen-tatives, 21 state senators and 62 state assemblymen. In Kings county a sher-iff and in Queens a district attorney were elected. Coler's plurality for Gov-ernor in the city was well above 100,000.

Tamany Justices were Chosen.

From the state, the returns showed that Edward B. Amend, Vernon M. Davis and Edward E. McCall, the Tammany-Democratic candidates, were elected to the supreme court bench by pluralities ranging from 70,000 to 80,000. Their opponents were William A. Keener, Alfred Steckler and Ernest Hall, who were appointed to the su-preme court by Governor Odell to fill vacancies. Keener and Steckler were nominated by both the Republicans and the Greater New York Democracy and Hall by the Republicans. The Greater New York Democracy placed in DeWitt Warner in nomination for the office against Mr. Hall and the Tammany candidates. The vote cast yesterday showed a remarkable change of feeling from last year when Mayor Law carried New York county by about 5,000.

REPEATERS WERE ARRESTED.

So Much of It, St. Louis Election Judge Resigned.

St. Louis, Nov. 5.—While the elec-tion in St. Louis passed off in com-parative quiet, there were a number of arrests for repeating. Two Re-publican judges of election were ar-rested on the charge of carrying con-cealed weapons. Complaints from more than 50 voters, who had not been allowed to cast their ballots, were received at the office of the board of election commissioners.

Albany Rejects Carnegie Library.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 5.—The ques-tion of accepting $165,000 from An-drew Carnegie for the erection of a library building in this city was put to a popular vote yesterday and de-feated by an overwhelming majority.

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 5.—The returns from 25 counties give a Democratic majority of 20,000. The only congressional district in which the Democrats are doubtful are the eighth and tenth, and there is nothing definite from either.

PRESIDENT CAST HIS VOTE.

He and His Wife Were Cheered at the Election Polls.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Nov. 5.—Presi-dent Roosevelt cast his vote in the Fifth district of Nassau county a few minutes before 11 o'clock. As he turned from the booth the president said:

"I have done all I can do now; I have performed my duty and exer-cised my privilege as an American citizen, and I shall now await the full returns."

He then started on a long drive with Mrs. Roosevelt.

It was 10:48 o'clock when the pres-ident and Mrs. Roosevelt drove up to the voting place in a trap drawn by a pair of bays. A big crowd had been awaiting his arrival for an hour. He was joined by Assistant Secretary Loeb and James K. Gracie, an uncle of the president. Mr. Roosevelt cordially greeted several of his personal friends and acquaintances in the crowd and then proceeded to the vot-ing place, which was in a hall over a fish market and Chinese laundry.

After shaking hands with the judges and clerks of election the president cast his ballot, which was No. 170. He then informally greeted many of his friends, who had assem-bled, and as he drove away the crowd greeted him heartily.

MICHIGAN.

Detroit, Nov. 5.—The Republicans of Michigan elected Governor A. T. Bliss and the entire state ticket, 11 of the 12 congressmen, and an overwhelming majority of the members of the legis-lature. At midnight all indications pointed to the election of Alfred Luck-ing, Dem., to congress from the First district. John B. Corliss, the present member, was cut deeply. While the returns indicate that the Democrats have increased by a few members their representation in the state leg-islature, the Republicans will have an overwhelming majority in both the branches. This insures the election of General R. A. Alger to fill the unex-pired term of the late U. S. Senator James McMillan.

WISCONSIN.

Milwaukee, Nov. 5.—Wisconsin has gone Republican by at least 35,000 plu-rality, and Governor Robert M. LaFol-lette and the complete state ticket are elected. The Republicans will also control the next legislature, which will elect a United States senator to suc-ceed Senator Spooner. In addition the election of eight congressmen is cer-tain, with probably two more if not the entire delegation. The candidates in the fourth, fifth and sixth districts were having a close run so far as the returns received last night showed.

CONNECTICUT.

New Haven, Nov. 5.—The Demo-cratic state organization, at 11:30 last night, conceded the election of the entire Republican ticket in Con-necticut, with the general assembly safely Republican on joint ballot. With complete returns from 140 of the 160 towns in Connecticut, the Re-publican plurality is conservatively estimated at 15,000.

UTAH.

Salt Lake, Utah, Nov. 5.—Polls in this state did not close until 8 o'clock last night and indications were re-turns would be very late. Three scat-tered precincts outside of Salt Lake gave McCarty, Rep., for associate jus-tice, 129; Young, Dem., 113. An enor-mous amount of scratching was done.

IDAHO.

Boise, Idaho, Nov. 5.—Scattered re-turns received up to 11 o'clock last night indicate the election of Mor-rison, Rep., for governor over Hunt, Dem., by a small plurality. The Re-publicans also claim to have elected a majority of the legislative candi-dates.

KANSAS.

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 5.—Kansas has gone Republican by at least 40,000 ma-jority. The entire state ticket and all the congressmen are elected by the Re-publicans. The Republicans will have a hundred members of the legislature.

REPEATERS WERE ARRESTED.

So Much of It, St. Louis Election Judge Resigned.

St. Louis, Nov. 5.—While the elec-tion in St. Louis passed off in com-parative quiet, there were a number of arrests for repeating. Two Re-publican judges of election were ar-rested on the charge of carrying con-cealed weapons. Complaints from more than 50 voters, who had not been allowed to cast their ballots, were received at the office of the board of election commissioners.

Circuit Attorney Folk spent all of the day at his office, listening to com-plaints and hearing evidence of al-leged fraud, which will be called to the attention of the grand jury today.

P. F. Myers, a Republican election judge, resigned, because, as he de-clared, there was so much repeating, which he was powerless to stop, that he was disgusted and would not serve.

Albany Rejects Carnegie Library.

DISPUTE OF SCIENTISTS

Congress of Americanists Discuss the Word "Amerind."

LIVELY INTERCHANGE OF VIEWS.

The Debate on the Coining of the Word Evoked Such Terms as "Hybrid," "Mongrel" and "Monster." Toscanelli Letters Declared to Be Forgeries by the Paris Delegate.

A long dispute, which at times was somewhat heated and acrimonious, was engaged in by the members of the international congress of Americanists at the meeting in the American Museum of Natural History the other day over the use by one of the speakers of the word "Amerind," to designate collectively all of the Indians who live or once lived in the western hemisphere, says the New York Times. Following the first protest against the word by Professor Franz Boas of the American museum, several linguists and anthropologists sought the floor instantaneously. The speeches were animated, and as points were made on both sides of the question the delegates who favored or opposed the adoption of the word cheered their respective sentiments spiritedly. Finally the presiding officer, Juan B. Ambrosetti of the Argentine Republic, who conducted the business in the French language, had to terminate the discussion when it was at its height by calling for the next paper.

In a paper on "Anthropology in Early American Writings" J. D. McGuire of Washington, D. C., of the American Anthropological association, used the word "Amerind." When he had finished, Dr. Boas, pronounced by one of the speakers who followed as "one of the foremost linguists of the world today," expressed his opposition to the new word. He did it briefly and quietly, but the other delegates took it up quickly.

Professor Frederick Starr of the University of Chicago and the Davenport Academy of Sciences denounced "Amerind" as "a hybrid, a mongrel and a monster." He said it should find no place in the scientist's vocabulary. Mr. McGuire then spoke in defense of the word. He said that it designated all of the Indians in this hemisphere better than any word or combination of words used, and that it was preferable to "American Indian," so commonly used, because that term had come to designate to the average man's mind those of the red men who inhabited North America alone. He said, further, that he would not have used it in his paper had he not heard it used in the proceedings of the day previous, at which time it received the approval of the congress, no objection being made.

Dr. A. F. Chamberlain of Clark university jumped up and said that it was he who had used "Amerind" in his paper on "The Algonquin Linguistic Stock" on Monday, Oct. 20, and he was ready to defend it.

"Language is made for man and not man for language," he declared. He said that he believed "Amerind" to be correct and convenient and comprehensively expressive. He said that when the word "sociology" was proposed there were objections to it "similar to those raised here and now and by persons similarly prominent," but that it had survived and attained general use in many countries. He believed the word was fit and would remain in the contest of "the survival of the fittest."

Several of the scientists were on their feet, calling to the presiding officer for recognition. Professor Starr again secured the floor. With spirit he declared that no scientist or linguist today could say that the word "sociology" is not a bad word and that its use is not most unfortunate. It would be the same with "Amerind," he declared. He pointed out that it is the universal accepted rule of scientists that new scientific words be formed from Latin and Greek and that this digression was to be deplored.

"We Americans should think of our fellow workers in other countries," he said. "What if a Russian were to abbreviate and combine a number of words so as to express a meaning which he well understood and which was handy for him? What if a Japanese scientist combined the parts of several Japanese words similarly? Why, there would be immediate protest from America and France and Germany and other countries if they attempted to secure the adoption of their new words by an international congress such as this. 'Amerind' comes from the English and would have no intelligible universal meaning. I repeat, it is a hybrid, a mongrel and a monster and should be abandoned."

The venerable Dr. F. W. Putnam of Harvard university and the American Museum of Natural History and vice president of the congress also opposed "Amerind," which word, he said, "I shall not pronounce more times than is necessary." This expression evoked cheers from the similarly minded.

Professor Edward S. Morse of the Peabody Academy of Sciences, Salem, Mass., in making his protest spoke of it as that word which I, too, do not care to pronounce. This second reference of this kind aroused the spirit of Professor Chamberlain, who had first used the word before the congress, and with flushed face and some asperity he said:

"There are people who are very near a condition of mind the name of which I hesitate to mention, as they hesitate to pronounce the name 'Amerind.'" Juan B. Ambrosetti rapped on the table and called for the next topic. The word "Amerind," it was explained by Professor W. J. McGee of the bureau of American ethnology, after the session, was coined by a world famous lexicographer and was early adopted by Major J. W. Powell, the founder of the bureau. At a meeting of the Washington Anthropological society three years ago this winter Professor Powell used the word and advocated its adoption. Since then, said Professor McGee, it has been commonly used by about one-half of the ethnological students in America and one-third of those abroad. An element has opposed it bitterly, he said, because it was not derived from the Greek and Latin.

Gonzalez de la Rosa, delegate from Paris, told how he discovered that the so called Toscanelli correspondence was a forgery, and declared that science had nothing whatever to do with the discovery of America. M. de la Rosa during the past few years made a personal inspection of all available records in Spain, Italy and Portugal concerning Columbus and his contemporaries, and has just written a book exposing the forgery, he explained to the congress. The man Toscanelli, who claimed in a letter to have evolved the scientific theory that the world was round and to have been instrumental in sending Columbus westward to prove it, M. de la Rosa declared, died two years before the letters were written.

"Columbus, ze bold seaman, he simply say, 'I show you ze shortest way to India where grow ze spice,'" said M. de la Rosa, who spoke in English. To chance and to nothing else, he declared, is the discovery of America by Columbus attributable.

AN AMERICAN ATHENS.

Plans of an Artist For One on the Hudson River.

The deserted little hamlet of Glen Elsie, up on the Hudson, is about to become the Athens of America, the headquarters of distinctly American art, if plans now formed are successful, says a special dispatch from New York to the Philadelphia Press.

William Horatio Day, a New York artist, is determined to create in one spot on this continent an art atmosphere that will develop our culture to its highest. Mr. Day has interested some of the foremost thinkers and artists in America. He has organized a stock company with a capitalization of $100,000 and has bought the little village. Already leading artists are trying to get stock, to rent the houses and to secure studios.

"This village will be in working order as soon as we can make it," said President Day. "By spring it will be a beehive. It is not a socialistic community. It is an art democracy. Nothing will be copied from Europe. American ideas and American instincts will be cherished and developed. We have inherited the art treasures and culture of the centuries, but we shall not copy. We shall develop Americanism. We can make as beautiful things in America as in Rome or Paris."

NEW SAFETY LIFEBOAT.

Invented by Norwegian, and Experts Say It Will Not Sink.

Officials of the life saving service are much interested in a new lifeboat invented in Norway, says a Washington special to the New York World.

Experts say for the new invention that it will safely carry through any storm. The apparatus, or buoy, is round and a little flattened at the bottom. It is made of solid sheet iron. Its diameter is eight feet and the height six and a half feet. The buoy has a double bottom and draws two and a half feet of water when loaded. The buoy is entered through three water tight trapdoors.

Under the deck, located about one foot below the water line, are placed four galvanized tanks, with a capacity for holding about 140 gallons of fresh water. Provision is made for a funnel to supply fresh air. The buoy is equipped with oars, a keel and rudder.

Some years ago the inventor, Captain Doenig, was in a shipwreck on the coast of Virginia, which bereft him of his family, and ever since he has been deeply interested in the construction of a lifeboat which may be serviceable under all circumstances.

Coal and Pence.

The horny hand of labor and the dapper hand of wealth. Are clasped, thus symbolizing a toast of luck and health. And, oh, our joy is mighty! Its nature nothing more. For soon the big coal wagons will block the way of cars. And soon the chunks will rattle into the empty bin. And all of us will chuckle and feel the heat and grin.

No more conferences will all around be held; No more by fierce denials will every page be swelled; No more will some proud person assume himself a king. Because he filled his cellar with anthracite last spring. Oh, what a peaceful blessing, and what a glad some day! We hear the engines tooting, and coal is on the way!

And isn't it consoling to know this stops the man Who peered up so sorely with his im- presive plan. To end the labor trouble? He won a lot of fame. And caused a lot of swearing—and Legion was his name. Ah, yes, it is a blessing! But he is with us now. And we must choke his efforts at this: "I told them how!"

No more will the inventors be telling us we're wrong. To make a conflagration by burning straw and hay; No more we'll be entreated to pour coal oil on bricks. Or told to stuff the furnace with odds and ends and sticks. No more of all this wisdom; at mud and stone we hoar; We're tired of burning money and hailing the substitute! —Baltimore American.

THE NEW WHITE HOUSE

Rich Furnishings of the Reconstructed Mansion.

EAST ROOM DECORATED IN WHITE

Fluted Corinthian Pilasters and Panels Mark Off Its Walls—State Dining Room Considerably Enlarged and Finished in Imported English Oak.

The American citizen who sees the new White House and has the opportunity of wandering through its rooms will feel that the president is fitly housed, says the New York Times. There is a great deal more space in the new White House, and the decoration of the rooms of the reconstructed building will be in keeping with the other alterations.

The great east room is already completed. This runs north and south the entire depth of the White House, making a grandiose apartment 78 by 38 feet. It is all in white. The walls are marked off by fluted Corinthian pilasters and panels. There is a liberal use of decorative features and rich gilding, so that, with a certain noble simplicity in keeping with the architectural character of the house itself, there is a refined dignity that accords with the large public functions for which this room is used. There are windows on three sides of the room, and a veranda adjoins its eastern wall.

The corresponding west side is entirely taken up by the state dining room, which has been considerably enlarged, so that it is now 38 by 49 feet, and the private dining room on the north side, which is 28 by 25 feet. A large pantry adjoins this. The state dining room, as befits its purpose, is one of the richest in its treatment. It is finished in imported English oak, a wood of a rich natural brown and beautifully grained. The carving and gilding in this room are magnificent, yet with that touch of reserve which marks the decoration of the entire house. The parquet floor will have a deep border of marble, and the same material forms a base for the woodwork of the wall. The ceiling, in stucco, will be ornate. A large marble fireplace is at the middle of the west wall. A great American eagle is an appropriate and graceful feature of the panel above the fireplace.

Between the east room and the state dining room there are three smaller rooms on the south side—the green room, the red room and the blue room. The red room, an oval 39 by 29 feet in dimension, is between the two others, which are each 28 by 22, so that this oval is in the middle of the southern front, its southern curve projecting somewhat beyond the line of the house and forming a bay, which is continued on the floor above.

These three rooms will be treated in velours of the several colors which have given them their names. Although their dimensions do not call for such elaborate treatment as the enormous east room or the state dining room, they will have in hangings and furniture a harmonious and delightfully decorative character.

The rest of the space on the ground floor is taken up by the vestibule which the Pennsylvania avenue entrance opens into, a spacious corridor, a fine stairway at the east side and an elevator and small anteroom at the west side.

The floor above is given over to living quarters for the president and his family. The oval room corresponding to the blue room of the ground floor is the library. On the side toward the east are two bedrooms and an office room which open into a sitting room whose windows look to the east. The arrangement of the south side west of the library is the same. On the north side there are six bedrooms. A large hall with skylights takes up the central space on this floor between these rooms.

The tastes of Mrs. Roosevelt and Miss Alice have been considered in the treatment of their rooms. Everything is in keeping with the colonial character of the White House, and hence is marked by refined and tasteful simplicity. The hall is in a rich green burk, with the woodwork and ceiling of a creamy white. The sitting rooms have large colonial windows, and the draperies of these windows are a cretonne of an old fashioned pattern. Large crimson hollyhocks are on Mrs. Roosevelt's, while artless pink roses and lilies of the valley in clusters with flowing blue ribbon give a girlish touch to those of Miss Roosevelt's. They are draped in the simplest fashion.

Mrs. Roosevelt's dressing room is in paper of a gray tint, the pattern being of a most delicate rose. The curtains are of silk, also rose colored, but of a richer tone. The carpet is of a solid color in pearl gray. Miss Alice's dressing room is papered with a lattice pattern with rich red roses, and the chintz curtains match it perfectly, and the carpet also.

The president's apartment at the southwest corner of this floor consists of a bedroom, private office, library and sitting room. The bedroom is papered with a green ribbon pattern, and the curtains match it. His private office is in rich golden brown, and the library is a rich brown.

Monument For Noted Frenchman. Frenchmen in America are planning to put up a monument in Newport, R. I. in honor of Admiral de Ternay, who commanded the fleet which brought Rochambeau and his soldiers to America. The monument will stand near the site of the pier at which the French troops disembarked and will be a fitting memorial of a worthy officer.

FINE GIFT FOR MITCHELL.

Gold Watch and Diamond Badge Presented by Coal Miners.

President Mitchell the other afternoon was the recipient of a gold badge and gold watch, the gift of Polish, Lithuanian and Slavonian members of the United Mine Workers, says a Wilkesbarre (Pa.) dispatch to the New York Times. The badge bears his monogram, "J. M.," in diamonds just underneath the bar containing the pin by which it is fastened to the coat lapel. Below this is the button of the United Mine Workers of America, from which hangs a pendant—a tiny pick and shovel, with miner's lamp in the center, and underneath a medallion containing the seal of the organization.

The presentation took place at President Mitchell's headquarters, and a large crowd listened to the speeches of presentation and acceptance. Mr. Mitchell in the course of his remarks said:

"These gifts will ever remind me of the duty I owe to the great army of workers who have reposed confidence in me and followed my leadership during the trying times. I shall regard it a great favor if you will express to the Polish, Lithuanian and Slavonian people my gratitude for the confidence they have so freely given me. I beg you to say to them that my highest ambition shall be to promote the welfare and advance the interests of all the men and women in their labor for a livelihood."

"I look forward to the time when strikes shall be no more; when peace and justice and right shall be secured for those who toil; when labor and capital, each recognizing its rights and obligations to society, shall work in harmony for the common welfare of our country and the general good of all our people."

When Mr. Mitchell left for Washington, he was accompanied to the station by a large and enthusiastic crowd, and when he boarded the train he was heartily cheered.

RECLAIMING OF MANILA.

Governor Taft's Measures to Prevent Further Epidemics.

Governor Taft and the health board of Manila, according to official reports to the war department at Washington, have agreed to a comprehensive plan for reclaiming the city of Manila from the unsanitary conditions which prevail there, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. The experience during the past few months in controlling the epidemic of cholera has satisfied the American authorities that only the most rigorous measures will suffice to protect Manila from pestilence whenever occasion arises. It has been decided that buildings which are insanitary must come down and be removed, the low places in the city are to be filled in, suitable sewerage is to be insisted on, walls are to be built to hold back tide water and new buildings will be permitted only in compliance with strict regulations as to plumbing and construction which will insure healthful conditions.

It is estimated that when the buildings in the slums of the city are torn down over 40,000 people will have to be moved out into temporary camps. Governor Taft announces that he will do this and have the people carefully looked after in their temporary quarters.

Captain McGregor, the city engineer, has taken part in the conferences and gives it as his opinion that it will be necessary to fill in over the whole site of the city in order to secure the grades that will make it possible to drain the streets and houses and accomplish such sanitary conditions. The cost will be large. It is estimated that the reclamation of the San Nicolas beach will cost at least $500,000.

GREAT APPLE RECORD.

Connecticut Man Says He Picked 135 Bushels in a Day.

Frederick Judd of Cheshire, Conn., claims the record as champion apple picker. He went to New Haven the other day with an affidavit signed by a justice of the peace asserting that in the space of nine hours he had picked forty-five barrels of apples, each barrel containing three bushels.

The feat was performed on the farm of Judge S. L. Bronson, a millionaire of New Haven, says the New York World. Judd says that Judge Bronson will vouch for his record and that his son Harmon will back him for any amount of money against any other aspirant for apple picking honors.

Growth by Electricity.

Dr. Maurice Springer recently read an interesting paper at the Academy of Medicine in Paris on animal growth, specifying four elements of nutrition having most effect in inducing organic development, namely, lecithin, potash, oxides and water, says the New York Herald. The doctor also pointed out that electricity is a powerful agent in the development of growth. By applying a Faraday current to certain muscles and joints of children both growth and increase of weight have been obtained.

Lorenz, the Cripple's Friend. He wears no gorgeous uniform To captivate the eye; He rides before no glittering host, With head held proud and high; No bugles loudly blare, No hats wave in the air As Lorenz passes by; He does not wear a warrior's crest; No gold braid gleams upon his breast; For him no banners fly.

"Take up the crippled little ones And bring them unto me"— His words send joy to many a heart—"And love shall be my fee!" The poor, bent limbs he takes With tender hands and makes Them straight and fair to see! For him no bugles proudly blow, But it were well if men might know More heroes such as he. —S. E. MCKINLEY MEMORIAL.

Site Purchased by Association Last Saturday.

The old brewery site, owned by the Canton Brewing Company, adjacent to Westlawn cemetery and the selected site for the National McKinley memorial, was bought by the McKinley National Memorial Association, Saturday afternoon, through C. A. Dougherty. The tract contains five and three-fourths acres of land and extends from the cemetery property to the race, abuts the hill selected for the monument site and cuts off Hazlett avenue. When the selection of the monument site was made by the trustees of the association a week ago it was decided this property should be bought and the buildings torn down. It was thought that the brewery or any manufacturing concern would disfigure the approaches to the monument.

It is given out that the brewery building, residences and other buildings will be torn down and Hazlett avenue will be opened up to the hill which will give a direct approach to the monument and add much to its appearance.

Assistant Secretary Frederick S. Hartzell, Saturday, said of this purchase: "The first active manifestation by the trustees of the McKinley National Memorial Association is apparent in the transaction Saturday between the officers of the association and the Canton Brewing Company, owners of a tract of five and three-fourths acres of land adjacent to the plot, contemplated for use as the monument site. At a conference Saturday afternoon between the officers of the brewing company and those of the association, the plot was purchased; the consideration is $14,000. The property is to be turned over to the association July 1, 1903."

"It should be understood that this purchase is no indication of a commencement of operations. It appears that the ownership of the tract by a factory might have rendered the monument mound unavailable, and the purchase has been made to prevent such an unfortunate condition.—Repository

AFRICA'S MAD MOLLAH

Influence Wielded by England's Foe In Somaliland.

CHIEF OF FANATIC MOSLEM HORDES

How He Utilized a Warship's Searchlights to Give His Followers Some Evidence of His So Called Miraculous Power—Difficulties of Campaigning Against the Somalis.

The Mad Mollah, against whom another punitive expedition of British troops is about to be started in Somaliland, in northeast Africa, has long been an object of suspicion by the war office, says the London correspondent of the New York World. He and his followers have opposed the development of the interior of Somaliland and have constantly stirred up strife by raiding and looting tribes which were under British protection. Early last spring he raided tribes within eighteen miles of Burao, and this despite the presence of a British garrison, which was powerless to effect anything against the mollah's rapidly moving force.

General Manning arrived at Adeu a few days ago and at once began to rush trained troops to Somaliland. It is believed that Mad Mollah has a force of from 12,000 to 15,000 men, many of whom are well armed and mounted. The British cannot promptly put anything like as large a force as that in the field, but expect to send there a brigade (3,000 or 4,000 men) of troops from India.

The mollah has been preaching the Jehad or holy war and has thus gained a considerable following of Moslems crazed with religious fervor. By his preaching he has gained such an influence over the tribesmen that he was proclaimed mahdi by the Mussulmans and immediately started a Mohammed-dan uprising.

Numerous "mad" mollahs have been heard from in the last decade, the most prominent one hitherto being a warrior in Afghanistan. A mollah is a Mohammedan priest or prophet, and a particularly fanatical one easily acquires the title of "mad" mollah. The Mad Mollah operating in Somaliland is known to his followers as Haji Muhammad Abdullah and belongs to the Habr Suellman Ogaden tribe. He married into the Dolbahanta Ali Gheri, among whom he now lives at Kob Fardod, a village inhabited by mollahs, a day's march east of Kerri-t and about 170 miles from Berbera, Somaliland. He is a man in the prime of life, dark colored, tall and thin, and has a small goat's beard. He has made several pilgrimages to Mecca, and while there attached himself to the sect of Muhammad Salih, whose deputy he claims to be in Somaliland.

This mollah is of humble origin, but gifted with considerable intelligence and cunning. He claims to have been commanded to preach the Jihad through a divine inspiration. During the time he was inciting his followers to rebellion against the British authority they demanded of him some evidence of his miraculous power. Having the night before seen a warship flashing its searchlights, he summoned
his followers to the beach at night, and, fortunately for him, the warship flashed its searchlights over the shore, illuminating the country for a great distance. The mollah at once proclaimed it as testimony sent direct by Mohammed from Mecca.

This so impressed the tribesmen that they will follow the mollah blindly anywhere. He has distributed among his followers pink colored rice, which he has assured them so long as they fight in the holy war will render their persons and horses invulnerable against the bullets of the infidels. He is a past master in intrigue, and by promises and gifts and by arranging marriages between his followers and other tribes he has gained a considerable following.

The difficulties which will confront any large force organized by General Manning will be by no means inconsiderable. There is no definite objective. The mollah and his followers have no fixed place of abode, but usually live in the villages of tribes they have raided. Much of the mollah's wealth consists of herds of camels and flocks of sheep and goats, and it is the idea of striking and destroying these that the expedition will have in mind. Army officers believe the mollah and his followers will always be found near the grazing grounds of these herds.

Before any effective work can be done the force must cross a strip of waterless desert known as the Haud, 200 miles in breadth. Except at the coast, no food supplies other than meat can be obtained. The only method of transportation for supplies, ammunition, military stores, etc., is by camel, involving a climb from the coast to a vast inland plateau some 6,000 feet above the sea level.

The Somali is endowed with wonderful powers of endurance, resembling in some respects a camel. He can make forced marches of thirty or forty miles a day, carrying his pack, without fear of breaking down, and this after being deprived two days of water. The Somali pony resembles his master in this respect. He can go forty or fifty miles a day, requires only to be grazed at night on what he can pick up and can do without water for three or four days. The Somali natives on the march of seventy miles start with but four pounds of dates per man and a quart of water. That is their ration.
On a longer march they take two pounds of dates and a pint of water for each day.

SUNSHINE AT THE TABLE

The Gentle Habit of Being Cheerful
Three Times a Day.

An old lady who looked as though she might have belonged to the "Sunshine society" all her life was asked by a friend for the secret of her never failing cheerfulness. Her answer contains a suggestive lesson for parents.
"I think," said the clever old lady, "it is because we were taught in our family to be cheerful at table. My father was a lawyer with a large criminal practice. His mind was harassed with difficult problems all the day long, yet he always came to the table with a smile and a pleasant greeting for every one and exerted himself to make the table hour delightful. All his powers to charm were freely given to entertain his family. Three times a day we felt this genial influence, and the effect was marvelous.

"If a child came to the table with cross looks, he or she was quietly sent away to find a good boy or girl, for only such were allowed to come within that loving circle. We were taught that all petty grievances and jealousies must be forgotten when mealtime came, and the habit of being cheerful three times a day under all circumstances had its effect on even the most sullen temper. Grateful as I am for all the training received in my childhood home, I look back upon the table influence as among the best of my life."

Much is said and written these days about "table manners." Children in well bred families are drilled in a knowledge of "good form" as to the use of the fork and napkin, proper methods of eating the various courses are descanted upon, but training in the most important grace or habit a child should have, that of cheerfulness at table, is too often neglected. Let the gathering at mealtime be made the most happy hour of the day, and the influence on the children may be beyond estimation.—Table Talk.

A Good Nut Cake.

For a nut cake the Boston Cooking School Magazine directs: Cream half a cup of butter. Add gradually one cup and a half of sugar, then half a cup of milk, one teaspoonful of vanilla extract, two cups and one-fourth of flour sifted with one-fourth a teaspoonful of soda and three-fourths a teaspoonful of cream of tartar. Lastly fold in the whites of five eggs. Spread in two layerlike pans. Press halves of Eng-

NUT LAYER CAKE.

lish walnuts into the top of one of the layers to make lengthwise rows of nut meats. Sprinkle the whole with white sugar and bake about twenty minutes.
Put the layers together with chocolate nut frosting.

Boil one cup of sugar and half a cup of water until it forms a thread when tried with a spoon. Pour in a fine stream, beating constantly, on to the beaten yolks of two eggs. Then pour this mixture on to a square of melted chocolate, add the chopped meats remaining from a pound of unshelled nuts and half a teaspoonful of vanilla extract and beat until cold enough to spread.

Tests of Coffee.

"One-third Mocha and two-thirds Java" is the popular password for excellence in coffee. There are, however, an indefinite number of qualities of both, inferior as well as superior grades. An expert tester in a large importing house which handles coffee gives the following ways for discovering adulteration: First, if ground coffee "cakes" or hardens into a mass when a quantity is pressed together in the hand, it is adulterated, probably with chicory. Many persons like the flavor of chicory, but might prefer not to pay coffee prices for it if they knew it. Next, carefully place a sample of suspected coffee on top of a glass of water. If part of it floats and part sinks, it isn't all "real." Again, put a spoonful of coffee in a white bottle half full of cold water and shake vigorously for a few moments. If the sample is pure, it will rise to the top, hardly coloring the water, because pure coffee is enveloped in an oily substance which prevents it from absorbing the water, while an adulterant, usually being free from oil, quickly becomes saturated.—Good Housekeep-

Fashion's Echoes.

Embroidered cloth ribbons in narrow widths play an important part on imported gowns. For example, a black ribbon has a raised design of forgetmenots.

Trailing roses, bold peonies, poppies and forgetmenots all figure in the new silk designs.

There is an attempt to revive the leg of mutton sleeve, and buttons down
the center of the back of this will look extremely well.

Capes are a noticeable item of fashion and range from single, double and triple shoulder pieces to the longer ones dignified as cloaks.

Braid is a popular trimming.

A touch of deep orange will be quite the thing to enliven dark costumes this winter.

Velvet has increased its vogue and is further enriched with fur and lace.

There is an air of good style in a Military Modes, including Gold Buttons at the Front—The Sleeves as You Like It, Bell or Coat—Attractive Costume Fabrics.

The long coat has established itself.
It is distinctly mannish and admits of that little touch of the "swagger" that so well suits the costume of the up to date young woman, and the lively twentieth century recognizes no "elderly" dame. Youth and fashion have become perennial.

Coats for the coming season are thus particularly fascinating, one of the

A STYLISH MILITARY COAT.

smartest among them being shown in the accompanying sketch. This is generally carried out in a checked tweed of soft gray or fawn tone, lined with a contrasting plaid silk, the fullness at the back confined by a military belt, and when desired it can be fastened over, and has the appearance of a double breasted coat. The high military collar fastens also with gold buttons matching the rest. The sleeves are wide and ample, easily slipping over any bodice or blouse. This coat is made in different shades of covert coating as well as in the checked tweeds.

The coat in the second sketch is an admirable wrap, which may be made in three different lengths from three-quarter to full length. One made in a good iron gray covert coating is particularly taking, the sleeves of the bell shape, though often the small coat sleeve is put in; both sleeves and yoke are lined with silk, the slit pockets being very convenient. This garment, less elaborately built than the military coat, is not so expensive as the former and yet sufficiently smart for any one.

In new materials for autumn costumes gray is thus far a favorite shade. The materials are thick and woolly, but light in weight, with quite the zibeline hairy surface. Plain colors flecked with white or black are ex-

remely attractive, a black cloth having white flecks nearly an inch in length.

There are some delightful new heather mixtures as well as striped mat-terials.

In all garments of the coat order great attention is given to showing off
the lines of the figure advantageously, and perfection of finish is absolutely demanded.

Benefit of Gas.

One important feature in the healthfulness of gaslight is that the air, which is by no means an inconsiderable amount, passing through every gas burner is sterilized by the heat, and any disease germs existing in it are thereby destroyed. The heat from the gas in winter is beneficial in bedrooms, bathrooms, halls, etc.

ICELESS REFRIGERATORS.

Oregon Man Invents a Blessing For Housekeepers.

An iceless refrigerator has been invented by an Oregon man in which the principle of the evaporation of water to reduce temperature is used. According to the inventor, the iceless refrigerator presents much the same appearance as ordinary refrigerators. The outer casing and door may be made of plain or expensive woods, as taste may dictate. The upper half and the top are closed tightly. The lower portion is formed of inclined slats, through which air may be freely admitted. The door is also made tight at the top and provided with slats at the bottom. The interior frame is made entirely of galvanized iron to prevent shrinking and expanding or becoming moldy with constant dampness, and it is also a good conductor of heat and therefore assists in reducing the temperature lower than it could otherwise be maintained. Burlap or other fibrous material is fastened upon this inside frame so as to form an interior wall, which stands at a sufficient distance from the outer wall of the structure to form an annular space between the two.

In the top of the inner structure is an opening covered with screen material.
Through this and the slats around the bottom of the outer casing a constant draft of air passes, thus causing an evaporation of moisture, with which the fibrous material is saturated, so that the interior of the apparatus is maintained at a low temperature. All around the top of this frame is a strip of galvanized iron, with an inclined lip bent over. The edge of the burlap is fastened upon the face of the frame one-eighth of an inch above the edge of the lip, so that the water which is discharged upon this inclined surface will not flow over the burlap, but will be directed against it, so as to be absorbed, thus saturating the burlap.

The fastening for this burlap or other fibrous material consists of a double pointed tack or holder, the head of which is soldered or otherwise secured to the face of the galvanized iron. The fibrous material being pressed over the points, they are folded down to hold it in place. This renders it easily removable for change or cleaning.

Above the top of the frame is a tank for holding water. Projecting from the sides and ends of this tank and at a suitable distance apart are horizontal pipes having in the outer ends vertically disposed needle valves, which control the flow of water from openings in the lower parts of the pipes. These openings and controlling valves are situated in line above the slanting lips, so that water delivered from the openings falls upon the lip and flows down into the fibrous material, keeping it constantly saturated.

"Diseases of the eye do not cause headaches. This is a fantastic idea of American physicians which has never been borne out by my experience. Spectacles never cure headache unless assisted by hypnotic suggestion."

This remarkable statement is made by Professor P. J. Mobius of the University of Leipzig, who is one of Germany's great authorities on nerves and nervous diseases. There are many other things that cause headache, and, according to the Philadelphia North American, his advice to those who suffer from pains of that description is to consult the general practitioner rather than the eye specialist. He says:

"The first thing that ought to be prescribed for a headache sufferer is fresh air. But we can't all go to the mountains or seashore certainly, but even city dwellers may find many far more healthy spots in their prison than their own rooms. Walk the streets, lounge in the parks, if you can't do better, and if you must sit inside keep the window open, if only a little on the top.
Headache sufferers should never sleep
with closed windows winter or summer.

"The vegetarians say their way of living forestalls headaches, but my experience as a practicing physician flatly contradicts that assertion. Though I had many patients who tried vegetari-anism and temporarily got rid of their headaches, the headaches came back, and came back to stay, after the first enthusiasm had worn off, spinach and peas notwithstanding. Still at the same time I always advise my patients to curb their appetite for meat. Undoubtedly too much meat is liable to cause headache in people otherwise predisposed to the disease.

"It's important that nervous people suffering with headaches should eat every few hours. If their stomach is empty, they become faint, and headache is the result. But never lose sight of the fact that constipation is one of the prime causes of headache. Headache people should make it a practice to have prunes and honey cake around;
also to eat plenty of honey and rhubarb and occasionally use sitz baths (cool) and chew tamarind. Salts should be avoided except by very robust persons."

Magnifying Sound.

M. Dussaud, the French scientist has applied the microphone principle in constructing a telephone for the hard of hearing. To test this invention hold the receiver to your ear and have some one talk to you, but naturally, evenly, without any changing of tone or pitch.
The voice in the receiver is normal,
but now turn the key of the switchboard under your hand one notch, and the voice is at once perceptibly louder.
Another notch and it is louder yet.
Complete the semicircle of the switchboard, and you will have the clarion shouting of a stentor in your ear.

PHOTOGRAPHY

H. B. Brackett, Jr., of Pittsburg writes as follows in Progressive American concerning a photographic device invented by him:

My invention relates to an improvement in tanks or trays for washing photographic and other prints. The device in use is usually set in an ordinary sink, the supply pipe being connected to the water supply by a hose and the water flowing away through the overflow openings into the ordinary waste discharge passage of the sink.

The operation of the device is as follows: The photographic or other prints being placed in the water in tank, the water is turned on at the supply pipe
and, flowing through the narrow slit, creates a current in the tank, which keeps the water and the prints therein

DEVICE FOR WASHING PRINTS.

continually in circulation until the same are thoroughly washed. The function of the water discharge orifice in the pipe is to create a current to carry away any prints that may tend to collect in the neighborhood of the pipe, and that of the inclined pipe is to give a downward direction to the water coming therefrom, so as to drive the prints away from the upper surface of the water and down into the current flowing through the slit.

With this improved device the prints
may be carelessly thrown into the tank,
and by reason of the different currents created by the different discharge orifices from the pipe they are kept separated and continually in motion under the water and thoroughly washed.

PLOWING AS A LUXURY.

Dr. Gatling's Invention Will Please Agriculturists.

From plowing to automobilizing seems a far cry, yet those two extremes are combined in the latest invention of Dr.
H. J. Gatling, originator of the famous rapid firing gun which bears his name.
At the age of seventy Dr. Gatling has conceived the idea of replacing farm horses with gasoline and changing the adornment of farmers' hands from callons to chauffeurs' gloves. In other words, says a writer in the St. Louis Republic, plowing is to be revolutionized, as was modern warfare.

It has remained for Dr. Gatling to invent a motor plow, driven by a gasoline engine of sufficient power to propel the plows at any desired depth between one and twelve inches. The truck is built similar to those trucks used with traction engines, except that the steam boiler is replaced by a strong platform, on which is placed the gasoline engine. It is connected with the traction gearing by a series of wheels. To this truck is attached a set of disk plows.

With this machine it is estimated that one man can plow from thirty to thirty-five acres in a day. To plow this number of acres in one day with the ordinary plow would require fifteen men and thirty horses. All that is needed to operate the Gatling plow is for the farmer to sit upon the cushioned seat of the truck and work the controller, which is not unlike those attached to automobiles. If he happens to be indisposed, his wife can take his place.

It is generally estimated that the cost of plowing under ordinary conditions is $1.50 per acre, and then the further preparation of the ground by harrowing and rolling it costs another 50 cents per acre. By the process of plowing with the Gatling machine the ground becomes thoroughly pulverized, and the rolling is not required. Dr.
Gatling is having his plow made in St.
Louis and is going to form a St. Louis company to carry on its manufacture and distribution when it is ready for the market. As yet his plans in this latter respect have not assumed definite shape. The sample plow is now nearing completion and will soon be ready for inspection.

The planet Mars has a diameter of about 4,000 miles, or half that of the earth, and seven globes as large as Mars would have to be rolled into one to equal our earth in bulk, says a writer in the Chicago News. This difference in bulk causes a corresponding difference in the force of attraction, bringing about a great reduction in the weight of bodies on the surface of Mars.

A mass of iron turning the scale here at 200 pounds would fall to turn the scale there at 100 pounds. And not only solid bodies, but water must also be lighter. And if there are oceans waves must be flung to greater heights with less wind. Again, the atmosphere must be far thinner in make than ours, due to lessened attraction.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1903

Every man on the Republican county ticket has been elected. This is as it should be. The successful candidates are worthy of all confidence and congratulations are not displaced whether bestowed in a personal or political spirit.

The Independent congratulates Richville on its slow but certain political reformation. Last year it gave a majority of ten votes to the head of the Democratic ticket. This fall it gives a Republican majority of three. Every little helps—especially when the little is on the right side of the ballot.

The unseen and mysterious influences which, according to hints of the Democratic candidate for secretary of state, the Rev. Herbert S. Bigelow, have been at work among the people for his election, seem to have ceased active operations at a critical period. The spectacular "red devil" style of campaigning inaugurated this year by Democratic leaders in Ohio, has ended with a crash in a cloud of mud and dust and Brother Bigelow seems to have been suffocated in the ruins.

For the second time The Independent takes off its hat to its distinguished fellow citizen Robert H. Day, who has just been re-elected to the office of prosecuting attorney of Stark county. Mr. Day's first election was the result of his personal popularity and his well known professional ability. This time he has been elected on his record as one of the ablest of Stark county's many able prosecutors. That Stark county has again honored itself in honoring Mr. Day, is a truth which goes without saying.

The latest election returns confirm the news of the early morning, all pointing to the remarkable fact that nowhere in the country has the Republican party suffered noteworthy defeat. The one great necessity of securing a Republican majority in congress has appealed to the main body of voters in most of the states which had to elect congressmen this fall, with the result that there will be an effective control of legislation by the Republicans in the next House of Representatives. Democratic stories of Republican disaffection and listlessness appear particularly flat in the light of what has actually occurred. As Josh Billings used to say, "It is better not to know so many things that never happen,"—a remark which applies with great force to recent Democratic predictions.

The Philadelphia Record, a strenuous free trade newspaper, expresses the opinion that if the tariff were taken out of politics by the creation of a permanent commission and if congress should be guided by the advice of such a commission, "after the first year there would not remain protected interests enough to warrant the expenses of the body." Herein, says the American Economist, is to be found the reason why the idea of a non-political tariff commission finds favor with Democrats and free traders. It would, as they believe, mean the death of Protection. Surely Republicans business men do not for the same reason favor the non-political tariff commission plan. For that reason, then, should any Republican business man favor it?

The New York Sun notes one of the closing features of Tom L. Johnson's campaign as follows: "For some weeks he has been rushing about Ohio in his red devil wagon, Single Tax, accompanied by his valet and followed by his circus. He has had plenty of exercise, but he wasn't really vigorous until his return to Cleveland. Friday he 'smashed' in the face the Hon. William Myleraine, a Republican tax board officer, who said, in Tom's hearing, that Tom was a liar. Such an assertion, whether correct or not, is a campaign conventionality. If Tom had a thousand fists and used them for assault twenty-four hours a day, Tom couldn't 'punch' more than 1 per cent of the persons who say he is a liar. He is himself 'giving the lie' to large numbers of the at least moderately veracious. Besides, Tom is too big, too essentially good natured and too well lined and muffled as to his ribs to be in the best condition for 'handing one' to hurlers of the lie. Instead of fighting, he should offer to race his opponents."

Notwithstanding and in spite of intimations made by the Independent's Democratic contemporaries to the effect that one or two good men entirely unknown outside of their immediate circles were going to receive a tidal wave of votes in this congressional district, the result of the election seems to be entirely satisfactory to the Republican candidate, the Hon. James Keeney, of Youngstown. As The Independent predicted would be the case, the men of brains throughout the district, decided that it is necessary to have a representative of real ability in congress and, fortunately, the men of brains carried the day. They will find that they have made no mistake. Mr. Keeney is well fitted to take the place so long filled by Congressman Taylor. He is well trained in law and has a general equipment which will make it possible for him to step into Mr. Taylor's shoes with a good deal of assurance. The voters of the Eighteenth district, as well as Mr. Keeney, have good reasons to be satisfied with the election returns.

According to dispatches from Washington there are strong indications now that when the government's fiscal year closes on the last day of next June, there will be nothing on the books of the treasury department to show that Uncle Sam has lost anything by the repeal of the war revenue taxes. When the bill taking that burden from the shoulders of the people was under consideration in congress, treasury experts estimated that its passage would cause a loss of from $75,000,000 to $90,000,000 in the nation's revenues for the fiscal year. Congressman Cannon, chairman of the committee on appropriations, warned the members of congress against heavy appropriations, calling attention to the loss from internal revenue sources. Democratic orators predicted a depleted treasury and a possibility of the government having to issue bonds to raise money with which to meet the appropriation bills. Four months of the fiscal year have passed, and the total receipts show an increase of nearly $2,000,000 over the corresponding period of last year, and give an assurance that the surplus next June will be nearly if not quite as large as it was for the last fiscal year. The figures will show that business is so good in the United States today that the government can drop a revenue getter that is worth $90,000,000 and never miss it.

WOMEN IN ALL CALLINGS.

Women workers are invading every line of employment. The census of 1900 makes returns for 303 separate occupations, and in only eight of these do women workers fail to appear.

None will be surprised that there are no women among the soldiers, sailors and marines of the United States government, yet there are 153 women employed as "boatmen" and sailors.

Women have not yet invaded the ranks of the city fire departments, still not less than 879 women are returned in the same general class of "watchmen, policemen and detectives."

There are no women street car drivers, though there are two women "motormen" and thirteen women conductors.

They have not as yet taken up the employment of telegraph and telephone "linemen," yet 22,556 of them are operators for these companies.

There are no women apprentices and helpers among the roofers and slaters, yet two women are returned as engaged in these employments.

There are 126 women plumbers; 45 plasterers; 167 brick and stone mason; 241 paperhangers; 1,759 painters and glaziers, and 545 women carpenters and joiners.

No women are returned as helpers to steam boiler-makers, but eight women work at this industry as full mechanics. There are 193 women blacksmiths; 571 machinists; 3,370 women workers as "lumbermen and raftsmen;" 113 woodchoppers; 373 saw mill employees; 44 bartenders; 2,086 saloonkeepers; 904 drymen and teamsters; 323 undertakers; 143 stonecutters; 63 quarrymen; 65 white-washers; 11 well borers; and 177 stationary engineers and firemen.

Following are the large employment for women: Servants, 1,283,763; agricultural laborers, 663,209; farmers and planters, 30,776; dress-makers, 344,749; laundresses, 335,282; traders, 327,614; textile workers, 277,972. There are 3,373 women clerks; 1,041 architects; 786 dentists; 2,193 journalists; 1,010 lawyers; 7,387 physicians, and 14 women veterinary surgeons.—Mahan's Magazine.

Ireland's Population Decreasing.

The recent census of Ireland shows a marked decrease in its population, which has been largely attributed to the famine throughout the island, causing the death of thousands of people, and forcing many others to emigrate. This brings to mind quite forcibly the absolute necessity of having plenty of good food if we would prolong life, but after all it is not a question of the amount eaten that makes people strong and healthy, but the way it is digested. Dyspeptic people cannot enjoy their meals, and consequently always feel depressed, irritable and nervous. They should try Hostetter's Stomach Bitters at once. It is a specific remedy for flatulency, belching, indigestion, dyspepsia and nervousness, and is backed by a record of fifty years of cures.

ELKS UP AND DOING

Hospital Project Is Well Under Way.

AN ADDRESS TO THE PUBLIC.

It Will Be Made Officially This

Week, and Therein Will Be

Detailed the Aims of the Organization—Co-Operation of

Lodges, Churches and Citizens Counted Upon.

The Elks' city hospital committee, Monday evening, got well under way its plans for raising funds. Besides contributing the entire proceeds of its annual minstrel show, the committee will strive by all other means to swell the hospital fund, and with the co-operation of the lodges, churches and citizens generally, it hopes to see the project succeed.

J. F. Shepley was named as the chairman of a sub-committee whose duty it shall be to make arrangements for the minstrel show. Mr. Shepley is vested with authority to call to his assistance such members of the lodge as he shall deem best qualified to perform the work in hand.

Other sub-committees on soliciting, legal investigation and so on will later be appointed. Thus the work will be well divided, each individual being responsible for some particular part of it. It is believed that this will prove a very effective plan.

Chairman Smith and Secretary Morgan were instructed to prepare a statement to the public detailing the aims, objects and plans of the committee and lodge. This statement will be made this week. Immediately thereafter the committee will actively begin the work of raising funds.

THE DOLLAR COUNTS

In this day and age of the world the dollar counts for more than at any time in the past. In the education of their sons and daughters parents should look to it that the ability to make money is included in their education. Every young person should have a desire to earn and save money. Each should be fitted to handle business in the best possible way. A business education serves its possessor well in the time of need.

Our courses help the employee to earn, and aid the employer to guide the affairs of his establishment.

It will be worth while to look into the practical value of a business education at the MASSILLON ACTUAL BUSINESS COLLEGE.

Nervous Prostration and Dyspepsia.

My Friends Know Heart Cure Cured Me.

Mrs. C. O. Hurd, 118 W. Third St., Muscatine, Ia., is well known throughout her section of Iowa as an ardent worker in the M. E. Church. She says: "LaGrippe left me with a severe case of nervous depression and nervous dyspepsia, which soon affected my heart. I suffered from sleeplessness, headache, extreme nervousness and twitching of the muscles. The slightest exertion would cause shortness of breath, a numbness of my body and hot flashes with pain. I will tell you what I am constantly telling my friends—that Dr. Miles' Heart Cure cured me so that all these disagreeable symptoms left me. I may add that for severe pain I have never found anything to equal Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills and think the Nerve and Liver Pills are a wonderful stomach remedy."

"Our son was stricken down with heart trouble in his twentieth year. For two months we got no sleep with him at night, so we commenced to use Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nerve and the Nerve and Liver Pills and today he is sound and well. In fact he passed a physical examination since his sickness and is with the Army in the Philippines. I desire to add that Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills have certainly been a boon to me. VOTE OF JACKSON.

Where Will He Be Allowed to Cast It?

North Lawrence, Nov. 5.—A problem too knotty for the local judges of election to decide arose here Tuesday. A moment before the polls were closed a young man named Jackson offered his ballot to the judges. His vote was challenged by the Democrats who claimed that he is not entitled to vote in this county. Jackson was recently married to a young lady residing in Wayne county. The wife still makes her home in Wayne county, but Jackson has continued to reside in this county. Where does Jackson vote, and which is his legal place of residence? Is his legal home the place where he supports his wife, or the place where he himself lives? The judges could not answer these questions, so, at the suggestion of J. P. Jones, the disputed ballot was sealed up and has been referred to the county board of elections.

MARRIED AT ST. TIMOTHY'S

Miss M. Arline Webb Becomes Mrs. E. U. Pratt.

A BRILLIANT SOCIAL AFFAIR.

The Ceremony at the Church

Occurred at Seven O'clock

and Was Followed by a Large

Reception at Bride's Home

in East Main Street—Many

Beautiful and Valuable Gifts

Received—Mr. and Mrs.

Pratt to Live in Cleveland.

The wedding of Miss Margaret Arline Webb, daughter of Mrs. Frank R. Webb, to Mr. Edward Upham Pratt, of Cleveland, in St. Timothy's church, at 7 o'clock Monday evening, was an exceptionally brilliant affair. The guests attending the ceremony entirely filled the church. Afterwards a reception was held at the Webb residence in East Main street, to which were invited relatives and members of the bride's large circle of intimate friends.

The chancel and sanctuary of the church were filled with groups of palms and ferns. On each side stood large trees of American beauty roses. Against the wall beside the altar were masses of white chrysanthemums. The pillars were twined with ropes of smilax. The lights of the many branched candelabra near the altar shed a soft radiance over the scene. While the guests were arriving Mrs. Webb, St. Timothy's organist, played a number of selections and just before the bridal party entered Mrs. Harry L. McLain sang "A Madrigal" by Tosti, and Miss Jessie Russell, Rubenstein's "Oh Fair and Sweet and Holy."

As the soft strains of the Lohengrin wedding march began the bridal party entered the church from the south vestibule and passed down the center aisle. The ushers, F. F. Taggart, Dr. T. F. Reed, Charles Pratt, of Cleveland, and J. G. Lester, were followed by Mrs. James N. Merwin, one of the two matrons of honor, the two bridesmaids, Miss Alexander, of Canton, and Miss Matthews, of Cleveland. Then came the second matron of honor, Mrs. F. F. Taggart, the bride's cousin, followed by the bride with her brother, Dr. Frank Webb, of Washington. The bridal party was met at the chancel by the groom with his best man, George North, of Cleveland, and the rector, the Rev. Edward J. Craft. The ceremony was begun at the chancel steps. It was concluded and the blessing pronounced at the altar rail. The bride was given away by her brother.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the Mendelssohn wedding march pealed forth and the lights in the main body of the church, which had been kept low until this time, were turned on. The bridal party returned down the aisle, the bride and groom leading. The bride's gown was of white chiffon over white taffeta silk. It was trimmed with point lace. She wore a veil and orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Mrs. F. F. Taggart wore white satin trimmed with lace and pearl passementerie. Mrs. Merwin white net over white brocade. Miss Alexander's gown was of satin crepe with a garniture of batiste lace. Miss Matthews's white embroidered chiffon trimmed with a cluny lace. The bridesmaids and matrons of honor wore Du Barry wreaths of white leaves and carried pink chrysanthemums.

At the reception following the wedding the bride and groom received the congratulations of their friends in the front drawing room. The house was decorated with roses and white chrysanthemums. In the dining room, where a buffet supper was served, the decorations were pink chrysanthemums.

The bridal party was served first, and as the bride passed up stairs immediately afterwards she threw her bouquet to the guests below. It was caught by Miss Jessie Russell. Mr. and Mrs. Pratt left the house amid showers of rice in time to take the evening train west on the Pennsylvania railroad. The bride's traveling gown was a brown camel-hair costume with a yoke of ecru lace and burnt orange velvet. With it she wore a hat of brown beaver and a long tan colored traveling coat.

The wedding presents displayed in the sitting room on the second floor were unusually handsome. They included a number of valuable rugs, large and small pieces of silver, cut glass, Tiffany glass, and many beautiful pieces of bric a brac. Among many other noticeable things was an electric clock which has to be wound once a year only. It is marked with the wedding date and the winding is to take place on each wedding anniversary. The groom's gift to the bride was a magnificent diamond brooch. The bride presented her maids with small gold brooches in the shape of clover leaves, each leaf being formed of a pearl. The groom's gifts to his best man and ushers were gold and pearl stick pins.

Besides the gowns already mentioned many other handsome ones were worn by the guests. Mrs. Webb, the bride's mother, wore a handsome black crepe. Mrs. Pratt, mother of the groom, black lace over black silk. Miss Anna Pratt, the groom's eldest sister, a mode colored etamine over pink silk. Miss Alice Pratt, another sister of the groom, a light blue silk costume. Miss Julia Thayer, a sister of Mrs. Pratt, wore a handsome black and white lace gown over white taffeta. Mrs. Charles Pratt, black net over black silk. Mrs. T. J. Reed, the bride's aunt, wore white chiffon embroidered with black.

Among the out of town guests, beside members of the bridal party and the groom's family, were Mr. and Mrs. Percy L. McLain, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. W. L. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Heffleman, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Whipple, the Misses Whipple, Tom and Lee Whipple, Mrs. Melinger and Oliver Strayer, of Canton; Mrs. Jacob Frick, of Wooster; Mrs. Matthews, Daniel Dennison, Clarence Dielhenn, Mr. and Mrs. Taplin, the Misses Taplin and Frank Taplin, of Cleveland; Mrs. F. Artz and son, of Wellington; Miss Moffit, of Louisville; Mr. and Mrs. Homer Walters, of Philadelphia; Miss Anna Goodchild, of Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. Silver, of Salem, and Dr. Frank Webb, of Washington.

After their honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Pratt will go to housekeeping at the Montana, in Hayward street, Cleveland. Mrs. Pratt has been one of the most popular young women in Massillon society. Mr. Pratt is a cousin of Mrs. Theodore Poake, of this city, and is well known here. He is connected in business with Bingham & Company, wholesale hardware merchants, of Cleveland.

Immediately after the ceremony they took a train from this city for the home of the groom, where they were given a big reception. Arrest and Fine Are No Discouragement.

THE ENGLE-HINDEY NUPTIALS.

Both Were Employed at the Hotel Sailer Till Saturday, When They Left to Prepare for Their Marriage—Then an Officer Came and Arrested Them for Larceny—Two Others Arrested Also.

Miss Nora Engel, chambermaid, and John Hindy, porter, left their positions at the Hotel Sailer, Saturday evening, and announced to Landlord Bayless and their friends that they intended to marry. They then went to West Brookfield, the home of the bride, it being their plan to remain there till the happy day should arrive. Some time afterwards an officer called and placed them under arrest. The trunks of Miss Engel had been opened and several shirts, stolen property, were found therein.

Miss Engel and Hindy gave bond for their appearance. On Monday they pleaded guilty to petit larceny. The woman was fined $3 and costs, and the man $5 and costs. Miss Engel says that she had found the shirts in one of the rooms of the hotel, and that she did not think there would be any wrong in appropriating them for her sweetheart. Hindy says he is sorry he accepted the shirts, particularly as they are too large for him anyway.

The shirts had been a part of the samples of a traveling salesman for a clothing house. John Baker, a seventeen-year-old call boy, and Barney Payne, a colored porter, were also arrested on a charge of helping themselves to these samples. Baker took some shirts. Payne took a pair of trousers, a sweater and other things. Nearly all the goods were recovered. Baker, on account of his youth, was fined $3 and costs. Payne was fined $5 and costs.

The property was stolen about the middle of October. The salesman had the things spread out in the sample room of the hotel. At the time he reported that some articles had been stolen, but as he was unable to tell just what was missing, not much attention was paid to the matter at that time.

The arrests were made by Police-men Wittmann, Ertie and Wissmar, on information received from hotel attaches Saturday evening.

The arrest will in nowise interfere with the wedding plans of Miss Engel and Hindy.

All of the party were able to pay their fines except the colored man, who is now in jail.

DEATH OF JOHN R. POYSER.

One of the Best Known Residents of Stark County.

Canton, Nov. 3.—John R. Poyser, former county commissioner and a well known citizen, died suddenly at his late residence, 716 South Cleveland avenue, at 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning. Heart failure, superinduced by an acute attack of indigestion, is assigned as the cause. Mr. Poyser had been indisposed since last Wednesday, but he was not confined to the house. Sunday morning he had an acute attack of indigestion about 5 o'clock, and Dr. A. B. Walker was called and rendered medical assistance. Mr. Poyser was evidently recovering from the attack and about 9:30 o'clock was carrying on a conversation with his son, William J. Poyser, when he suffered a second attack and died with his son at his side before further aid could be summoned. The deceased seemed in good spirits just before his death and his passing away was entirely unexpected. In spite of his advanced age of 77 years he had been enjoying comparatively good health for several years past.

Mr. Poyser was born in Sugarcreek township in 1825, but has resided in Canton since 1840. He served as county commissioner from 1893 to 1897, and was well and favorably known throughout the entire county.

He is survived by his wife, one son, William Poyser, secretary of the Bucher-Gibbs Plow Company, and one daughter, Mrs. Frank Alexander, of North Cherry street. In addition he had five sisters: Mrs. Susan Welty, of near Wilmot, this county; Mrs. Sarah Oberlin, of the Fulton road, north of the city; Mrs. Eliza Eckroad, and Mrs. Joseph Barr, of this city, and Mrs. Otto Oberlin, of Stanwood, this county.

The funeral services will be held from St. John's Catholic church at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. Interment in St. John's cemetery.

A SENSATIONAL SUICIDE.

Charles Ramsey Dies in a Canton Livery Stable.

Canton, Nov. 3.—Charles Ramsey, who has been employed as a moulder at the Bucher & Gibbs Plow Company, committed suicide Sunday. The deed was done in front of M. A. Fisher's drug store, in East Tuscarawas street, about 8:30 o'clock in the afternoon, while many people were strolling along that thoroughfare. About that hour Ramsey, who was about thirty-two years of age, went into the drug store and informed the man in charge, William E. Lang, that he desired to kill a cat and wanted a small quantity of chloroform. As is usual in such cases, where poisonous drugs are sold to strangers, Mr. Lang asked for the address of the person wanting the drug, for the purpose of registering it as the law requires. He gave the name of "Charles Ramsey, residing at 1202 East Tuscarawas street." The date of the sale was also recorded with the name of the drug and the purpose for which it was purchased. The man paid for his purchase and started out of the store, taking the door nearest the corner of Cherry street.

"I started to wait upon another customer," said Lang. "A short time later I noticed the man sitting in our doorway, while a woman, who I afterwards learned was his mother-in-law, stood before him. The man was crying and must have told the woman that he had swallowed the drug in order to end his existence. She asked me if I had sold him laudanum. I answered that I had not, but that he had purchased chloroform a few moments before. I took in the situation at once and pulled the man into the store, where I offered him an emetic. This he absolutely refused to take and made motions for me to stand aside. I then took hold of him and tried to force the emetic down his throat, but he spit it from his mouth and shouted as he did so: 'Leave me go; I want to die.' He was then taken from the store to Phil Aikins' livery stable, across the way, where he died a short time afterward. I was told after the occurrence that this was the third attempt that the man had made upon his life within the last six or seven months, having tried it with carbolic acid once and morphine on the other occasion. The man did not act in a strange manner when he came into the store, and I believed him when he told me he wanted the drug to kill a cat."

Ramsey was well known about Canton. He was a divorced man and the father of two children. A short time before he drank the chloroform he had been conversing with his divorced wife and her mother, Mrs. Elliot, in the rear of the Penn restaurant, about a block from the drug store where he obtained the poison.

NORTH LAWRENCE.

North Lawrence, Nov. 3.—A large Republican rally was held in the rink here Saturday night. The speakers were Judge J. P. Fawcett, of Canton, and John P. Jones. Judge Fawcett took up the subject of trusts. Mr. Jones dwelt on the condition of miners in 1894, compared with their condition in 1900. He elicited much applause by comparing the action of Grover Cleveland in connection with the railroad strike in Chicago in 1894 and that of President Roosevelt in the recent anthracite coal strike. Judge Fawcett said the meeting was the most enthusiastic he has attended during the campaign.

"Foxy Grandpa" is Coming. "Foxy Grandpa" comes here on next Saturday, matinee and night, with thirty entertainers, combined in William A. Brady's delightful blending of wholesome fun and sparkling melody. The popularity of the "Foxy Grandpa" comic sketches has been even surpassed by that of the stage version which depicts the happy old man and his joke-loving grandsons in a kaleidoscopic whirl of funny adventures. Mr. Brady has selected the prettiest of girls, the cleverest of specialty people and provided an entire new equipment of scenery and costumes. It has run for six months in the Fourteenth Street Theater, New York, and has gained tremendous popularity among young and old in every one of the great cities. The production here will be precisely the same that was seen in New York. Seats on sale Thursday morning.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble. Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

He cures sick men and women, and has an established reputation for honesty and reliability. He keeps his promises.

The Bible says: "In the mouths of two or three witnesses shall every word be established." Here are several witnesses.

Dr. Kutchin has hundreds of such testimonials, but never publishes a name unless asked to do so. Read what these cured and happy people have to say.

WHY DON'T YOU SEE THE DOCTOR BEFORE IT IS TOO LATE?

SNATCHED FROM THE JAWS OF DEATH.

I was desperately ill for several years with Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. I had no good doctors as I could not get in this part of the country, but they did not help me. I was so weak I could not walk; my feet were swollen so I could only wear a big pair of father's overshoes; I was almost blind, and the doctors gave me up to die.

My father took me to Dr. Kutchin, and while he would not promise to cure me, he gave me a trial.

I have doctored with him for 4 months. Now I can go any place and am improving so rapidly that I feel about as well as ever. I cheerfully recommend Dr. Kutchin. Will answer letters if stamp is enclosed. MRS. CHARLES YANNAYON, Rittman, Ohio.

THIS FRENCHMAN'S EXPERIENCE IS GOOD READING.

Versailles, O., April, 1901.

For seven years I never drew a well breath. I took Peruna and all the other patent medicines until I had enough. Nothing ever helped me. Finally I went to see Dr. Kutchin, and he pronounced my disease Bronchial Catarrh. In three months I gained eighteen pounds, I am getting well as fast as a man can.

Dr. Kutchin is very reasonable in his charges and I would have saved hundreds of dollars if I had gone to him sooner. I advise all the sick to doctor with him, for they will never regret it. JOSEPH SAINTIGNON.

CURED SEVEN YEARS AGO.

I was in deep trouble 7 years ago. In fact, I was about dead. I had a bad case of catarrh of the stomach and disease of the kidneys. I could not do any work without feeling pain in my back, my head, my chest, my stomach, my bowels, and all over my body. I was so weak I could not walk. I was almost blind, and the doctors gave me up to die. I was so weak I could not walk. I was almost blind, and the doctors gave me up to die. I was so weak I could not walk. The doctor has been visiting this county for some years.

Now At Its Height

The Bargain Trumpet is sounding. The great quit business sale is now in full swing. It has been a record breaker from the start—decidedly the grandest value giving event in the history of Massillon's business life, such low pricing on

HIGH GRADE Suits and Overcoats For Men and Boys stands without parallel or precedent. The oldest citizens shake their heads and say, I never saw the like.

It's a Go! No deception about this sale—it's a sure quit—We must dispose of every garment in the store and the fixtures also—all by the beginning of the year 1903. We are determined to make quick work of everything; the sooner we have sold out the better. Cost price and less is the ruling. Drop everything and come to

INDIANA'S MAJORITY.

Republicans Control the State Legislature.

Indianapolis, Nov. 5.—Returns today make no material change from last night's figures. The congressional delegation remains as now, nine Republicans and four Democrats.
The legislature is safely Republican, insuring the re-election of Senator Fairbanks. Republicans claim the state by 30,000.

Entertainment committees will find just what they want in the way of invitations, programmes, etc., at THE IN-DEPENDENT office.

There Is No Substitute.

There is nothing just as good as Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. No other medicine can take its place. It does not stimulate—it rebuilds and reinvigorates by resupplying exhausted nerve force. It acts by its power to nourish the nerve centers—no other known medicine does this. It is the only reasonable, sensible way. Don't accept a substitute—get what you ask for—Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills—a medicine whose excellence is vouched for by your fellow citizens.

Paul Street

Mr. Henry Paul, of No. 30 Paul street, Massillon, Ohio, says: "As a tonic I can speak positively and highly of Dr.
A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills I got at E. S.
Craig's drug store, No. 9 South Erie street. They demonstrated fully with me their power to rebuild one, furnish strength, energy and physical vigor. I needed these qualities and got them from a use of the medicine. I am glad to recommend it."

THIS SHAPED BOX—NO OTHER

West Cherry Street.

Mr. C. F. Myers, No. 28 W. Cherry St.
Massillon, Ohio, says: "Dr. A. W.
Chase's Nerve Pills are a success. I was very nervous and shaky brought on by hard work and possibly tobacco. My back bothered me too, was lame and painful. The Nerve Pills I heard of and got a box at E. S. Craig's drug store,
No. 9 South Erie street, and they are fine. The nerves are steady, no more shaky spells and the back in good shape.
I am glad to say this as the relief is great."
